BOLD TRAIN ROBBERS

Hold Up an Express on the Southern Pacific

AND GET SAFE OFF WITH THEIR BOOTY.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 2.—The Southern Pacific east-bound express was held up two miles east of Maricopa late Sunday night by three men, two of whom were masked. They boarded the train as it was leaving Maricopa, capturing the head brakeman, who was compelled to turn on the air-brakes and stop the train. The engineer and head brakeman, with pistols at their heads, were compelled to go back to the express car and induce the messenger to open the doors. One of the bandits then entered the car and searched for valuables, while the others guarded each side of the train.

The amount taken is not known, but it is supposed to be small.

The trainmen were then marched away a short distance and liberated, the robbers mounting their horses and starting southward. Sheriff Driscoll, of Pinal county, and Sheriff Murphy, of Maricopa, were at once telegraphed.

Driscoll sent a posse from Casa Grande to the scene of the robbery, while Murphy sent several posses out to intercept the fugitives.

Sheriff Murphy and Deputy Widmer reached the camp of the suspected men, seven miles east of the city, about 9 o'clock this morning. The only occupant was Frank Armour, a Tonto Basin cowboy, who commenced shooting as soon as the officers came in sight. The officers returned the fire with shotguns, mortally wounding their man.

Their horses, which were badly jaded, were found near by as well as their rifles, but the remainder of the gang had disappeared.

Deputy Frothero and a posse are in pursuit and it is expected they will capture the others in a few hours. The men are undoubtedly the same who robbed the Congress stage several weeks ago. Some watches, taken from street-car employees a few nights ago, were also found in the camp. The penalty for train robbery in Arizona is death.

TARDY COMPENSATION

To Settlers Driven from Their Homes on the Crow Creek Reservation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Indian bureau has sent to the treasury department several hundred of the claims arising out of the expulsion of 944 settlers from the Crow Creek reservation in South Dakota several years ago. The proper proofs of identity are not yet all in, but as fast as possible the commissioner of Indian affairs is sending the claims to the treasury department for payment. The sum of $116,000 was appropriated by congress for this purpose. When President Arthur was in office he declared certain lands on the Crow Creek reservation open to settlement, but President Cleveland later revoked that proclamation on the grounds that the lands should not have been opened to entry, and the settlers were driven from the reservation.

STRUCK BY A TORNADO.

Considerable Damage Done to Property, but no One Fatally Injured.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 2.—A tornado struck this city early last evening and did considerable damage to property. Several persons were injured, none fatally. The Missouri Pacific depot and a number of other buildings were unroofed. The car barns at Fifteenth street and Fifth avenue were demolished, and the debris burned. Shanty trees and telegraph and telephone wires were blown down in all parts of the city. It is feared great damage has been done in the neighboring country, communication with which is cut off.

Arrested with Fifty Thousand Marks on His Person.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Julius Rosenbach, of Munich, Germany, was arrested yesterday as soon as he arrived on the steamer Berlin. He is charged with embezzling 40,000 marks belonging to Rudolph Schroeder, of Munich. The arrest was made on the complaint of the German consul general at this port. He admitted that he had 50,000 marks on his person.

Crushed Between Steel Rolls.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 2.—Joseph Tritt, a machinist employed by the Carnegie Steel Co. at Homestead, was fatally injured yesterday morning while changing rolls in the 40-inch mill. His hands were caught between the rolls, and before they could be stopped Tritt was drawn through to his neck. His arms and shoulders were slowly crushed. He cannot recover.

A SAVAGE FIGHT

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2.—The members of the sophomore and freshmen of Wittenburg college, Springfield, O., engaged in a fierce class "rush" yesterday and a dozen of them were severely injured. Some are in a dangerous condition. The fight occurred in the dormitory building.

One of the students was knocked senseless, and it was thought for a time that he was dead. Alarm over his condition really brought hostilities to an end. The female members of the classes took part in the contest, and some faces will carry the marks of their pretty fingers for several days.

More Lands for Actual Settlers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Some time this month President Cleveland will issue a proclamation opening to settlement the unallotted lands on the Yankton reservation in South Dakota, containing over 100,000 acres. The general land office is preparing patents for the lands granted in severalty to the Indians on the Yankton reservation. This work will be completed within three weeks.

Unfavorable Opinion of the Czar's Condition.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A dispatch from Berlin to the Standard says that Prof. Leyden has returned to the city and expressed himself regarding the czar's condition as decidedly unfavorable to the imperial patient. Dr. Leyden thinks his majesty may possibly recover if he is kept in good spirits and his strength is maintained.

Death in Maine of an Old Illinois Editor.

He founded a paper at Canton, Ill., the Fulton Democrat, at Lewistown, Ill., and the Squatter Sovereign, at Havana, Ill. He has owned and edited the Carthage Republican for thirty-five years.

The Shrinkage in Circulation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The decrease in national bank note circulation since September 1 has been $27,477, leaving the amount outstanding October 1, $307,471,501. National bank circulation, based on United States bonds, decreased in the same period $1,035,015.

Worth Remembering.

There is one fact worth remembering. It is this. No man ever heard of, or can point to an instance where the contemplated passage of a protection tariff bill, or its passage, or the revision of such a bill along protection lines ever disturbed the business of the country in any degree. On the contrary the contemplated passage of, and the passage of a revenue tariff bill always injures the business of the country. The reason for the difference is obvious. A protection tariff is in the interest of the business of the country and every business man and manufacturer, regardless of his political affiliation, knows this. On the contrary these all know a free trade tariff endangers the business of the country.

McKinley, Wilson and England.

The Democratic campaigners all over the country are expressing great sorrow over the action of Chairman Wilson in attending a banquet in London, given in his honor by the Commercial club of that city, and making the speech he did. Their sorrow proceeds from the fear they have that the speech he made, and those made on the occasion by Englishmen, may injure the Democratic party in the campaign. Not one of these campaigners denies that Wilson or the British speeches misstated the facts. What troubles them is that the true inwardness or motives of the party have been expressed, at this time, when they want votes and expect to deceive the people to get them.

Chairman Wilson told the truth when he told the English that the Democratic party proposed to tear down the American defenses, erected by the protectionists, into this country. The English speakers at the banquet told the truth when they characterized Wilson and the Democratic party as the benefactors of England and that England owed them a debt of gratitude for opening the American market to them.

A great many good people have, no doubt, forgotten that the English workmen, urged on by their employers, burned McKinley in effigy after the passage of the so-called McKinley protective tariff bill. The bill was made for America and Americans, and this did not suit the English. The Wilson bill was made to let European goods into this market and to that extent it suits England and other European countries.

After such a demonstration, which is an insult to our fair name, every patriotic citizen should vote to send into private life Mr. Wilson and his party.

If war existed between England and this country and Wilson should appear in London and talk as he did, in favor of the cause of England and against his own country, he would be arrested for treason immediately upon his return. Under the circumstances, his offense is just as great in a moral sense. England and America are competing manufacturing nations, and in that sense are at war with each other. The success of America in this respect is more important to our people than the issues of any military conflict that could possibly occur between the two nations, and yet Mr. Wilson accepts an invitation to an English feast in London and receives the praise of those people because he has sided them in this contest to the discomfiture of his own people, and after he receives their endorsement he gives them aid and comfort by promising to help them still more. If any American has any apology for the truths told by Wilson, or for the course of the Democratic party as to the tariff, or chooses to deny that the present tariff bill is in the interest of European labor and capital and against American labor and capital, let him explain why England burned McKinley in effigy because his name was connected with a tariff bill, and feasted Wilson because his name is connected with a tariff bill.

CLEVELAND characterized the new tariff law as an act of perfidy and dishonor. David B. Hill, with the Republicans against the measure and yet in his Saratoga speech the burden of the Hill song was, let the new tariff alone and give industry and trade a chance to recover under stable conditions and let the Democrats stand together. Democrats standing together is a beautiful thought.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1, 1894.

The more the administration crowd thinks of the nomination of Senator Hill for governor of New York the less they like it. Publicly it is difficult to get them to talk about it, further than to utter the usual platitudes about their being in favor of the nominee, and peculiar circumstances surrounding the case which are not understood outside of the state; but privately they do not hesitate to say that the whole business was a put up job, for the purpose of making Hill, who was only a short time ago in danger of being publicly read out of the Democratic party by his fellow Democrats because of his opposition to the tariff bill, the leader of the Democratic party. His nomination has already proved decidedly embarrassing to the managers of the Democratic Congressional campaign. It has been sending out literature in defense of the tariff bill, and especially the income tax clause of it, and here is Hill, who voted against the tariff bill, nominated for governor of the great state of New York, on a platform that specifically condemns the income tax. They don't know what to do. If they shout for Hill they offend Mr. Cleveland, who will control the Federal patronage until March 4, 1897, and if they don't they offend Hill, who may be the Democratic nominee for the presidency two years hence. The Republicans, while commenting the truth of Dan. Lamont's comment, that "Hill is a vote-getter," are pleased with the nomination, because they are confident that it will result in the election of Mr. Morton and in making the electoral vote of New York certain for the Republican nominees in 1896. They fully agree with the administration men in believing that Hill's nomination was a put up job, and that its author was David B. Hill, but they think the administration ought to be glad of it, as Hill will be defeated and thus eliminated as a factor in national politics. The administration men would be glad enough of the opportunity to assist in the eliminating process were it not for their knowledge that if New York elects a Republican governor this year it will almost certainly go Republican in the presidential election.

About the smallest piece of political work ever done by any administration was the resumption in a small way of the coinage of silver dollars, in order that the coins might be used by stump speakers and personal workers among the more ignorant voters of the south and west to convince them that the Cleveland administration was so friendly to silver that it was still coining silver dollars. Of course this little trick will not fool intelligent newspaper readers, who know that Mr. Cleveland is the most bitter opponent of silver who ever sat in the president's chair, but from information received here these few 1894 silver dollars are fooling some voters. However, they are mostly in sections where the Populists, not Republicans, are injured. Still, it is a piece of dirty work.

Perhaps the bad news he carried of the Democratic congressional outlook was not well received. At any rate the secretary, who is ordinarily a man of even temper and pleasant disposition, has been in a terribly bad humor ever since his return. It is said that Mr. Cleveland vetoed several propositions submitted to him by Mr. Carlisle concerning treasury business, and that one of them was the proposed formulation of rules for the payment of a rebate upon imported alcohol used in the arts. Whether this be true or not your correspondent does not undertake to say, but it is borne out by the semi-official announcement that the treasury department will not undertake to put into effect the clause of the tariff law authorizing such rebates, without further congressional legislation.

Hints for Women Voters.

All women in Illinois eligible under the law can vote for three University Trustees.

All women who are 21 years of age, either native born or naturalized citizens of the United States, who have resided in the state one year, in the county 90 days and in the ward or school district precinct 30 days preceding an election can vote for the three University Trustees on the state ticket.

A foreign born woman becomes a citizen of the United States if she has married a man who is native born or who has been naturalized. She can therefore vote for the Trustees.

This being a general election all women must register as men do.

The days of registration for Chicago, Cicero and East St. Louis are Oct. 16th and 23d.

In Cook county, outside of Chicago and Cicero, and in all the state elsewhere, except East St. Louis, the general election laws are in force. The days of registration are October 16th and 23d.

Let every Republican woman go to the registration place with her husband, father or brother. She will then be sure no man stays at home. If she has no male relatives, let her go with her woman friends and she must be sure that all her friends go.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Last evening fifteen ladies, representing the Christian church, "Cheerful Workers of the Third Ward," called on Mrs. Laura W. Hall, wife of the pastor, at their home on West Wood street, and presented her with a beautiful album quilt. Mrs. M. P. Murphy made the presentation speech, which was feelingly responded to by the recipient of the gift. The affair was an entire surprise to Mrs. Hall. The quilt is a fine one, and had netted the society about $40. There are 43 members of this band, among them Mrs. John Ulrich, Mrs. Capt. Bingham, Mrs. John Fletcher, Mrs. J. G. Willard, Mrs. Wandel, etc.

Husband vs. Bicycle.

This letter appeared in a divorce case yesterday:

"MY DEAR MARY—You must not think too hard of your Helen for seeking other pastures and fields that are more inviting. I am a bicyclist. At one time you said that you had bicycled. It must have been contagious. I am infatuated, heart, soul, mind and body, with my wheel; more so, if the sad truth must be told, than I ever was with you. I get more comfort and satisfaction from being tied down by your side. My wheel is young and frisky and we are more congenial companions than you and I could be. Do as you please in the matter of divorce, but you can never divorce me from my wheel. Farewell, HELEN."

Acting on this letter from his wife, Mathias La Frene, of 3304 Paschal avenue, filed a bill for divorce in common pleas court, No. 1. The La Frenes were married in Yonkers nearly five years ago, and came to this city to live. Both went bicycle mad, and took many excursions together. La Frene fell ill, and his physician said he had "bicyclocrosis," and forbade him to ride any more. His wife could not resist, however, and she went on many little wheeling trips, and at last, over a year ago, took one to Altoona, from which she never returned. Instead she sent the letter, in which she told how much more she loved her wheel than her husband.—Philadelphia Times.

A Delightful Surprise.

Mrs. C. H. Walters and Mrs. H. C. Dempsey gave a most delightful surprise party at the home of the latter last night, the occasion being the birthday of Mr. Walters and Mr. Dempsey. The house was beautifully decorated with plants and blooming flowers. Progressive whist formed the amusement of the evening. Elegant refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Koach, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Brennenman, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Vigus, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Dillehunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Watt, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ehrman, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dempsey, Misses Sophie Hallack and Bertha Roach.

THE WOMAN WHO EATS.

she Does Not Always Know What Constitutes Proper Food.

Somebody, who displays enough good sense to start a millennium, says that the coming woman will be a success just in proportion as she learns to eat. For generations past women have lived on bread and butter—bakers' bread at that—and tea and warm-up potatoes. Sometimes they were warmed up in milk; sometimes in fat or butter; but they were warmed-over potatoes all the same.

Now this is a dish that is well enough in its way, but it is not alarmingly prolific in the production of brain material. The coming woman is going to eat all the good things of life. She will eat the best she can get on all occasions, and as much of it as common sense, and an intelligent understanding of the needs of her system will dictate. Exit teapot and bread and butter, and in their place we will have good soup, well-cooked meats if one cares for them, plenty of milk, eggs, butter and a fair amount of the sweet things of life. For the coming woman is to be an out-of-door creature, and can consume pure sunshine matter in reasonable quantities to excellent advantage. Perhaps she will make her own confectiery, if she does, so much the better; for she will be more certain that it is made of proper material.

Women have been starving themselves to death in a systematic, sympathetic and aristocratic fashion for a good many years, and it is quite time that they put a stop to it. The apostle of healthful development is telling them that it is out of the question to keep a good fire in the physical furnace without proper material. There are many people who are under the doctor's care, and who swallow no end of nauseous drugs and drink all sorts of vile-tasting and smelling waters, when the most that they need is plenty of good food to eat and all of the out-of-door exercise that they can bear. Such a course of treatment would bring them up to the standard in a short time, but it would diminish the doctor's fees, and that is precisely what he does not want.

It would be a good thing if some medical man could develop as a specialty the faculty of teaching people how to eat and what to eat, instead of filling them with drugs that nine times out of ten aggravate the disease they seem striving to remove. Then we might hope for strong, healthy, well-developed girls and women, who are fit for all the duties of life. It is no secret to many thoughtful persons that the diet of women, especially those of limited means, is nowhere near sufficient to keep them in good condition. It might be a benefit if, instead of fresh-air funds and excursions and a few weeks in the country, there could be restaurants provided where women could for a moderate sum get meals that are sufficiently nourishing to keep up their vitality and give them some sort of show for rising above the level to which their burdens of over-work and under-feeding have dragged them.—N. Y. Ledger.

SOCIETY SPOILS THEM.

High-Bred Dogs by No Means the Most Intelligent.

So long as our dogs were employed in the labor of the organized recreations of man, the tendency of the association with the superior being was in a high measure educative. They were constantly submitted to a more or less critical but always effective selection which tended ever to develop a higher grade of intelligence. With the advance in the organization of society the dog is ever losing something of his utility, even in the way of sport. He is fast becoming a mere idle favorite, prized for unimportant peculiarities of form. The effort in the main is not now to make creatures which can help in the employments of man, but to breed for show alone, demanding no more intelligence than necessary to make the creature a well-behaved denizen of a house. The result is the institution of a wonderful variety in the size, shape and special peculiarities of different breeds, with what appears to me to be a concomitant loss in their intelligence. It appears to me, in a word, that our treatment of this noble animal, where he is bred for ornament, is, in effect, degrading.—Prof. N. S. Shaler, in Scribner's.

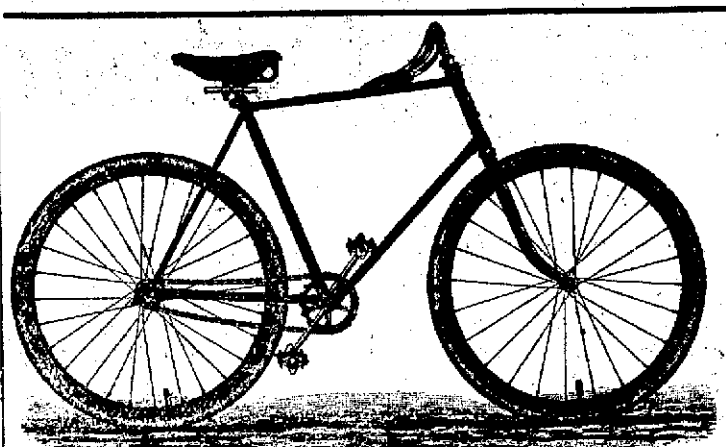

Bees in the Mammoth Cave.
"Mammoth cave in Kentucky is getting to be a gigantic bee hive," said a recent visitor. "The last time I went through this big hole in the ground I took both the long and short routes, as they are called by the guides. At several places there were rather too many bees for me to feel entirely comfortable, although I was not attacked by any of them. If the cave should be explored for honey some rich finds would undoubtedly be made. The bees are increasing constantly. In fact, while I have visited the cave frequently for several years, it has only been about two years since I knew that they were there, and this year it would be impossible for a visitor not to know it." Cincinnati Enquirer.

—James Venney was run over by an ice wagon in New York and one of his broken ribs punctured his lung. The escaping air got into the cellular tissue under the skin and puffed him up so that at the hospital he was known as the "human pin cushion." But he is recovering.

—There was a mock marriage at a church entertainment in Steubenville, O. The principals were a maiden lady of the advanced age of eighty and a man of sixty-five. Now the bride claims the man is her real husband, and he has become so scared that he appears as old as she.

—Mr. Lemon—"Why do you always question patients so closely about what they eat? Does the information you get help you to diagnose their cases?" Dr. Emode—"Oh, no! But, by so doing, I am enabled to guess what their station in life is, and how much fees I can probably get out of them."

WILL COST $5,000.
Decatur May Get the German Baptist Camp-Meeting.

It is more than probable that Decatur will get the German Baptist or Dunkard camp meeting to be held in May and June of the coming year. The local committee thinks Decatur is a good town, and have submitted a proposition which was accepted to a meeting of the German Baptist conference, held last night at the St. Nicholas hotel, at which Dr. R. L. Walston presided. The proposition which was in a written form, was considered and accepted by the conference, and it was figured that it will cost an outlay of about $5,000 to erect the requirements. It is to be a permanent meeting and the railroads are to be closed out the United States for two days preceding the date of the opening of the meeting will be closed to Decatur to all who apply to the committee for the round trip. There will be 10,000 to 25,000 Dunkards here for 10 days at the camp business meeting, and thousands of strangers will come on excursion and regular trains to attend the meeting and see the city. The fare tickets will be good for thirty days. The Dunkards will not sleep in Oakland Park where the meetings are held. They will ask for sleeping accommodations in the city and will take their meals at the park. Several large temporary buildings will have to be erected at the park, together with offices and other structures and it is required that there shall be a building and racks where horses can be hitched. It is expected that the big meeting will result in the sale of land and result in property.

BOLD TRAIN ROBBERS

AND GET SAFE OFF WITH THEIR BOOTY.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 2.—The Southern Pacific east-bound express was held up two miles east of Maricopa late Sunday night by three men, two of whom were masked. They boarded the train as it was leaving Maricopa, capturing the head brakeman, who was compelled to turn on the air-brakes and stop the train. The engineer and head brakeman, with pistols at their heads, were compelled to go back to the express car and induce the messenger to open the doors. One of the bandits then entered the car and searched for valuables, while the others guarded each side of the train.

The amount taken is not known, but it is supposed to be small.

The trainmen were then marched away a short distance and liberated, the robbers mounting their horses and starting southward. Sheriff Dras, of Pinal county, and Sheriff Murphy, of Maricopa, were at once telegraphed.

Dras sent a posse from Casa Grande to the scene of the robbery, while Murphy sent several posses out to intercept the fugitives.

Sheriff Murphy and Deputy Widmer reached the camp of the suspected men, seven miles east of the city, about 8 o'clock this morning. The only occupant was Frank Armour, a Tonto Basin cowboy, who commenced shooting as soon as the officers came in sight. The officers returned the fire with shotguns, mortally wounding their man.

Their horses, which were badly jaded, were found near by as well as their rifles, but the remainder of the gang had disappeared.

Deputy Prothero and a posse are in pursuit and it is expected they will capture the others in a few hours. The men are undoubtedly the same who robbed the Congress stage several weeks ago. Some watches, taken from street-car employees a few nights ago, were also found in the camp. The penalty for train robbery in Arizona is death.

TARDY COMPENSATION

To Settlers Driven from Their Homes on the Crow Creek Reservation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Indian bureau has sent to the treasury department several hundred of the claims arising out of the expulsion of 944 settlers from the Crow Creek reservation in South Dakota several years ago. The proper proofs of identity are not yet all in, but as fast as possible the commissioner of Indian affairs is sending the claims to the treasury department for payment. The sum of $116,000 was appropriated by congress for this purpose. When President Arthur was in office he declared certain lands on the Crow Creek reservation open to settlement, but President Cleveland later revoked that proclamation on the grounds that the lands should not have been opened to entry, and the settlers were driven from the reservation.

STRUCK BY A TORNADO.

Considerable Damage Done to Property, but no One Fatally Injured.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 2.—A tornado struck this city early last evening and did considerable damage to property. Several persons were injured, none fatally. The Missouri Pacific depot and a number of other buildings were unroofed. The car barns at Fifteenth street and Fifth avenue were demolished, and the debris burned. Shade trees and telegraph and telephone wires were blown down in all parts of the city. It is feared great damage had been done in the neighboring country, communication with which is cut off.

Arrested with Fifty Thousand Marks on His Person.

New York, Oct. 2.—Julius Rosen-dahl, of Munich, Germany, was arrested yesterday as soon as he arrived on the steamer Berlin. He is charged with embezzling 40,000 marks belonging to Rudolph Schroeder, of Munich. The arrest was made on the complaint of the German consul general at this port. He admitted that he had 50,000 marks on his person.

Crushed Between Steel Rolls.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 2.—Joseph Tritt, a machinist employed by the Carnegie Steel Co. at Homestead, was fatally injured yesterday morning while changing rolls in the 40-inch mill. His hands were caught between the rolls, and before they could be stopped Tritt was drawn through to his neck. His arms and shoulders were slowly crushed flat. He cannot recover.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2.—The members of the sophomore and freshmen of Wittenburg college, Springfield, O., engaged in a fierce class "rush" yesterday and a dozen of them were severely injured. Some are in a dangerous condition. The fight occurred in the dormitory building.

One of the students was knocked senseless, and it was thought for a time that he was dead. Alarm over his condition really brought hostilities to an end. The female members of the classes took part in the contest, and some faces will carry the marks of their pretty fingers for several days.

More Lands for Actual Settlers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Some time this month President Cleveland will issue a proclamation opening to settlement the unallotted lands on the Yankton reservation in South Dakota, containing over 100,000 acres. The general land office is preparing patents for the lands granted in severity to the Indians on the Yankton reservation. This work will be completed within three weeks.

Unfavorable Opinion of the Czar's Condition.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A dispatch from Berlin to the Standard says that Prof. Leyden has returned to the city and expressed himself regarding the czar's condition as decidedly unfavorable to the imperial patient. Dr. Leyden thinks his majesty may possibly recover if he is kept in good spirits and his strength is maintained.

Worth Remembering.

There is one fact worth remembering. It is this. No man ever heard of, or can point to an instance where the contemplated passage of a protection tariff bill, or its passage, or the revision of such a bill along protection lines ever disturbed the business of the country in any degree. On the contrary the contemplated passage of, and the passage of a revenue tariff bill always injures the business of the country. The reason for the difference is obvious. A protection tariff is in the interest of the business of the country and every business man and manufacturer, regardless of his political affiliation, knows this. On the contrary these all know a free trade tariff endangers the business of the country.

McKinley, Wilson and England.

The Democratic campaigners all over the country are expressing great sorrow over the action of Chairman Wilson in attending a banquet in London, given in his honor by the Commercial club of that city, and making the speech he did. Their sorrow proceeds from the fear they have that the speech he made, and those made on the occasion by Englishmen, may injure the Democratic party in the campaign. Not one of these campaigners denies that Wilson or the British speeches misstated the facts. What troubles them is that the true inwardness or motives of the party have been expressed, at this time, when they want votes and expect to deceive the people to get them.

Chairman Wilson told the truth when he told the English that the Democratic party proposed to tear down the American defenses, erected by the protectionists, to let the English manufacturers into this country. The English speakers at the banquet told the truth when they characterized Wilson and the Democratic party as the benefactors of England and that England owed them a debt of gratitude for opening the American market to them.

A great many good people have, no doubt, forgotten that the English workmen, urged on by their employers, burned McKinley in effigy after the passage of the so-called McKinley protective tariff bill. The bill was made for America and Americans, and this did not suit the English. The Wilson bill was made to let European goods into this market and to that extent it suits England and other European countries.

After such a demonstration, which is an insult to our fair name, every patriotic citizen should vote to send into private life Mr. Wilson and his party.

If war existed between England and this country and Wilson should appear in London and talk as he did, in favor of the cause of England and against his own country, he would be arrested for treason immediately upon his return. Under the circumstances, his offense is just as great in a moral sense. England and America are competing manufacturing nations, and in that sense are at war with each other. The success of America in this respect is more important to our people than the issues of any military conflict that could possibly occur between the two nations, and yet Mr. Wilson accepts an invitation to an English feast in London and receives the praise of those people because he has aided them in this contest to the detriment of his own people, and after he receives their endorsement he gives them aid and comfort by promising to help them still more. If any American has any apology for the truths told by Wilson, or for the course of the Democratic party as to the tariff, or chooses to deny that the present tariff bill is in the interest of European labor and capital, let him explain why England burned McKinley in effigy because his name was connected with a tariff bill, and favored Wilson because his name is connected with a tariff bill.

CLEVELAND characterized the new tariff law as an act of party and dishonor. David B. Hill sided with the Republicans against the measure and yet in his Saratoga speech the burden of the Hill song was, let the new tariff alone and give industry and trade a chance to recover under stable conditions and let the Democrats stand together. Democrats standing together is a beautiful thought.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1, 1894.

The more the administration crowd thinks of the nomination of Senator Hill for governor of New York the less they like it. Publicly it is difficult to get them to talk about it, further than to utter the usual platitudes about their being in favor of the nominee, and peculiar circumstances surrounding the case which are not understood outside of the state; but privately they do not hesitate to say that the whole business was a put up job, for the purpose of making Hill, who was only a short time ago in danger of being publicly read out of the Democratic party by his fellow Democratic Senators because of his opposition to the tariff bill, the leader of the Democratic party. His nomination has already proved decidedly embarrassing to the managers of the Democratic Congressional campaign. They have been sending out literature in defense of the tariff bill, and especially the income tax clause of it, and here is Hill, who voted against the tariff bill, nominated for governor of the great state of New York, on a platform that specifically condemns the income tax. They don't know what to do. If they shout for Hill they offend Mr. Cleveland, who will control the Federal patronage until March 4, 1897, and if they don't they offend Hill, who may be the Democratic nominee for the presidency two years hence. The Republicans, while conceding the truth of Dan. Lamont's comment, that "Hill is a vote getter," are pleased with the nomination, because they are confident that it will result in the election of Mr. Morton and in making the electoral vote of New York certain for the Republican nominees in 1896. They fully agree with the administration men in believing that Hill's nomination was a put up job, and that its author was David B. Hill, but they think the administration ought to be glad of it, as Hill will be defeated and thus eliminated as a factor in national politics. The administration men would be glad enough of the opportunity to assist in the eliminating process were it not for their knowledge that if New York elects a Republican governor this year it will almost certainly go Republican in the presidential election.

About the smallest piece of political work ever done by any administration was the resumption in a small way of the coining of silver dollars, in order that the coins might be used by stump speakers and personal workers among the more igne ant voters of the south and west to convince them that the Cleveland administration was so friendly to silver that it was still coining silver dollars. Of course this little trick will not fool intelligent newspaper readers, who know that Mr. Cleveland is the most bitter opponent of silver who ever sat in the president's chair, but from information received here these few 1894 silver dollars are fooling some voters. However, they are mostly in sections where the Populists, not Republicans, are injured. Still, it is a piece of dirty work.

PREPARED BY HENRIETTA CO., ALBANY, N. Y.

Perhaps the bad news he carried of the Democratic congressional outlook was not well received. At any rate the secretary, who is ordinarily a man of even temper and pleasant disposition, has been in a terribly bad humor ever since his return. It is said that Mr. Cleveland vetoed several propositions submitted to him by Mr. Carlisle concerning treasury business, and that one of them was the proposed formulation of rules for the payment of a rebate upon imported alcohol used in the arts. Whether this be true or not your correspondent does not undertake to say, but it is borne out by the semi-official announcement that the treasury department will not undertake to put into effect the clause of the tariff law authorizing such rebate, without further congressional legislation.

The Democratic congressional campaign committee contained a lot of thoroughly disgusted individuals when the cabled report of that fool speech made before the London Chamber of Commerce by Representative Wilson, of W. Va., reached Washington. Some of them privately admitted that any man who had little enough judgment to make such a speech in a foreign country ought not to be elected to congress; and few of them now think that he even has a chance to be elected. The speech is regarded as such excellent Republican campaign material that a committee from Mr. Wilson's district came to Washington as quick as they could get here after seeing the cabled synopsis of the speech, to ask the Republican Congressional committee to secure a full stenographic report of it for general distribution in the district. They wish every voter in the district to know the unAmerican language which was so loudly applauded by the men whose interests are all anti-American, and the Republican committee will aid in carrying out their wishes. Every voter in Wilson's district will be given an opportunity to read that speech.

Husband vs. Bicycle
This letter appeared in a divorce case yesterday:

"MY DEAR MAT:—You must not think too hard of your Helen for seeking other pastures and fields that are more inviting. I am a bicyclist. At one time you said that you had bicycled. It must have been contagious. I am infatuated, heart, soul, mind and body, with my wheel; more so, if the truth must be told, than I ever was with you. I get more comfort and satisfaction from my wheel than I could derive from being tied down by your side. My wheel is young and frisky and we are more congenial companions than you and I could be. Do as you please in the matter of divorce, but you can never divorce me from my wheel. Farewell, HILLEN."

Acting on this letter from his wife, Mathias La Frene, of 3304 Paschal avenue, filed a bill for divorce in common pleas court, No. 1. The La Frenes were married in Yonkers nearly five years ago, and came to this city to live. Both went bicycle mad, and took many excursions together. La Frene fell ill, and his physician said he had "bicyclicrosis," and forbade him to ride any more. His wife could not ride, however, and she went on many little wheeling trips, and at last, over a year ago, took one to Alton, from which she never returned. Instead she sent the letter, in which she told how much more she loved her wheel than her husband.—Philadelphia Times.

A Delightful Surprise.
Mrs. C. H. Walters and Mrs. H. C. Dempsey gave a most delightful surprise party at the home of the latter last night, the occasion being the birthday of Mr. Walters and Mr. Dempsey. The house was beautifully decorated with plants and blooming flowers. Progressive whist formed the amusement of the evening. Elegant refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Brennenman, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Vigus, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Dillehunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Watt, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ehrman, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dempsey, Misses Sophia Hallack and Bertha Roach.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

MONTICELLO.
Rev. W. F. Wohlfarth preached his farewell sermon Sunday evening at the M. E. church. He goes to Urbana.

The new city well is 200 feet deep and the new pump throws 200 gallons of water per minute. Col. Smith has a pear tree which has fruit on it and the top is in full bloom. It is quite a curiosity.

There is a colored camp meeting going on at Lodge's Park, conducted by Mr. J. H. Bell and others. The Champaign colored quartet furnish the music.

The Belmont Corn Band came over to the rally and furnished some fine music. It is a good band and plays nicely.

The Monticello Volunteer Fire company has disbanded. The city council refused to grant their request for $10 per week, in case they were disabled by accident in the service of the city.

The Presbyterian Sunday school had a fine program at their last meeting.

O. S. Jenkins, of Marion, was here visiting his old friends at Monticello.

There will be a large number from Platt county in attendance at the big McKinley meeting at Springfield October 10th.

E. W. Lee has already begun the preparations for the grand reunion and encampment on the Shiloh battle field. Many of the 41st Illinois comrades are going and hundreds of the old soldiers from all over the country. There will be tents and steamboats to all who go to the reunion. Will last one week.

There was quite a sensation here over the elopement of Mr. A. C. Bond and Miss Ada Gage. Bond is 34 and Miss Gage is 15. The parents of Miss Gage objected to the marriage as they are first cousins. They sent their daughter to live with the Presbyterian minister, and Bond eloped her away and they eloped to parts unknown and got married. She was under age and had not her parents' consent.

Charles Houseman and his father, James Houseman, were thrown from a spring wagon Monday morning and Charles had his leg broken and his father was badly bruised.

The Republican rally was a grand success and was attended by a large turnout. The best of attention was given to the speakers, all of whom made fine addresses. The city was rally decorated with "Old Glory's" and pictures of the Republican leaders. Platt county will give a largely increased majority for the Republican ticket in November, both state and county. The meeting here was one of the best ever held in the county, and good results will be realized in November. Democrats as well as Republicans want good times and they will be up to bring about better times.

Peace in the kitchen means joy all over the house. There is peace in every kitchen where Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is used.

Interesting Census Bulletin.
An interesting census bulletin has just been issued from the census bureau. It relates to farms, houses and mortgages, showing the ownership and debt in Illinois. As to farms, it states that 36.72 per cent of families on farms hire or rent the farms, and 63.28 per cent own the farms they cultivate; that 36.71 per cent of the farm-owning families own subject to mortgages, and 63.29 per cent own free of incumbrance. On the owned farms there are liens aggregating $98,940,935, or 34 per cent of their value. Each owned or incumbered farm, on the average, is worth $4962, and is subject to a debt of $1164.

For homes in cities of $1000 to 100,000 51.77 per cent of the families rent, and 48.22 per cent own their own homes; and 31.67 per cent own them with incumbrance; 68.33 per cent own free of incumbrance. The average incumbrance on each home owned is $1,773, and the average value of homes is $4,623.

The figures as to Decatur are that 1,258 families own their own homes free; 630 families who own their homes own them incumbered; 1,802 families hire their homes. The value of the mortgaged homes owned by the 630 families is $1,531,304, and the aggregate of incumbrance is $489,943. Percentage of incumbrance is 32, which is the smallest of any of the 23 cities with which Decatur is ranked. These cities include Danville, East St. Louis, Quincy, Bloomington, Galesburg, Peoria and Rockford.

A WAGABOND, of Hammond, has 770 acres of corn that will average fifty bushels to the acre.

The new lodge of K. of P. at Tolono will start with seventy-five members.

THE ST. LOUIS MILL.

Employees Are Told it Will Resume if They Consent to 25 Per Cent. Cut in Wages.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1.—The Niedringhaus tin-plate and rolling mills have temporarily shut down. This afternoon the employees had a meeting with the members of the company and were given to understand that they would have to consent to a reduction in their wages before the mill would reopen and they could resume work. The reduction will average nearly 25 per cent. The men made no answer. They were told that they could have one week in which to make their decision. A number of men will leave the city and seek work elsewhere. Several have already gone to the east to find work.

A member of the firm said: "Under the McKinley bill the duty on tin plate was 2.2c per pound, affording us a protection estimated at 75 per cent. Since the Wilson bill became a law, the duty is placed at 1.2c per pound, affording protection of only 35 per cent. In order to meet the disadvantages our business will suffer on this account, we were compelled to make a reduction in the wages of the rollers, catchers, doublers and heaters, who number about 200 men.

There are 600 men employed in the works, but of this number only the 200 mentioned will be affected by the new wage schedule."

Dangerous Falsehoods.

The following paragraph, from an act in congress and sent out by the weather bureau to the several stations over the country for the information of the public may make interesting and profitable reading:

"Any person who shall knowingly issue or publish any counterfeit weather forecasts or warnings of weather conditions, falsely representing such forecasts or warnings to have been issued or published by the weather bureau, United States signal service, or other branch of the government service, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, for each offense, be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisoned not to exceed ninety days, or be both fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court."

THE WOMAN WHO EATS.

She Does Not Always Know What Constitutes Proper Food.

Somebody, who displays enough good sense to start a millenium, says that the coming woman will be a success just in proportion as she learns to eat. For generations past women have lived on bread and butter—bakers' bread at that—and tea and warm-up potatoes. Sometimes they were warmed up in milk; sometimes in fat or butter; but they were warmed-over potatoes all the same.

Now this is a dish that is well enough in its way, but it is not alarmingly prolific in the production of brain material. The coming woman is going to eat all the good things of life. She will eat the best she can get on all occasions, and as much of it as common sense and an intelligent understanding of the needs of her system will dictate. Exit teapot and bread and butter, and in their place we will have good soup, well-cooked meats if one cares for them, plenty of milk, eggs, butter and a fair amount of the sweet things of life. For the coming woman is to be an out-of-door creature, and can consume pure saccharine matter in reasonable quantities to excellent advantage. Perhaps she will make her own confectionery. If she does, so much the better; for she will be more certain that it is made of proper material.

Women have been starving themselves to death in a systematic, sympathetic and aristocratic fashion for a good many years, and it is quite time that they put a stop to it. The apostle of healthful development is telling them that it is out of the question to keep a good fire in the physical furnace without proper material. There are many people who are under the doctor's care, and who swallow no end of nauseous drugs and drink all sorts of vile-tasting and smelling waters, when the most that they need is plenty of good food to eat and all of the out-of-door exercise that they can bear. Such a course of treatment would bring them up to the standard in a short time, but it would diminish the doctor's fees, and that is precisely what he does not want.

It would be a good thing if some medical man could develop as a specialty the faculty of teaching people how to eat and what to eat, instead of filling them with drugs that nine times out of ten aggravate the disease they seem striving to remove. Then we might hope for strong, healthy, well-developed girls and women, who are fit for all the duties of life. It is no secret to many thoughtful persons that the diet of women, especially those of limited means, is nowhere near sufficient to keep them in good condition. It might be a benefit if, instead of fresh-air funds and excursions and a few weeks in the country, there could be restaurants provided where women could for a moderate sum get meals that are sufficiently nourishing to keep up their vitality and give them some sort of show for rising above the level to which their burdens of over-work and under-feeding have dragged them.—N. Y. Ledger.

SOCIETY SPOILS THEM.

So long as our dogs were employed in the labor of the organized recreations of man, the tendency of the association with the superior being was in a high measure educative. They were constantly submitted to a more or less critical but always effective selection which tended ever to develop a higher grade of intelligence. With the advance in the organization of society the dog is ever losing something of his utility, even in the way of sport. He is fast becoming a mere idle favorite, prized for unimportant peculiarities of form. The effort in the main is not now to make creatures which can help in the employment of man, but to breed for show alone, demanding no more intelligence than necessary to make the creature a well-behaved denizen of a house. The result is the institution of a wonderful variety in the size, shape and special peculiarities of different breeds, with what appears to me to be a concomitant loss in their intelligence. It appears to me, in a word, that our treatment of this noble animal, where he is bred for ornament, is, in effect, degrading.—Prof. N. S. Shaler, in Scribner's.

Bees in the Mammoth Cave.

"Mammoth cave in Kentucky is getting to be a gigantic bee hive," said a recent visitor. "The last time I went through this big hole in the ground I took both the long and short routes, as they are called by the guides. At several places there were rather too many bees for me to feel entirely comfortable, although I was not attacked by any of them. If the cave should be explored for honey some rich finds would undoubtedly be made. The bees are increasing constantly. In fact, while I have visited the cave frequently for several years, it has only been about two years since I knew that they were there, and this year it would be impossible for a visitor not to know it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"At the hospital he was known as 'human pincushion.' But he is recovering.

—There was a mock marriage at a church entertainment in Steubenville, O. The principals were a maiden lady of the advanced age of eighty and a many of sixty-five. Now the bride claims the man is her real husband, and he has become so scared that he appears as old as she.

—Mr. Lamon—"Why do you always question patients so closely about what they eat? Does the information you get help you to diagnose their cases?" Dr. Emode—"Oh, no! But, by so doing, I am enabled to guess what their station in life is, and how much does I can probably get out of them."

THE WOMAN WHO EATS.

She Does Not Always Know What Constitutes Proper Food.

Somebody, who displays enough good sense to start a millenium, says that the coming woman will be a success just in proportion as she learns to eat. For generations past women have lived on bread and butter—bakers' bread at that—and tea and warm-up potatoes. Sometimes in fat or butter; but they were warmed-over potatoes all the same.

Now this is a dish that is well enough in its way, but it is not alarmingly prolific in the production of brain material. The coming woman is going to eat all the best she can get on all occasions, and as much of it as common sense and an intelligent understanding of the needs of her system will dictate. Exit teapot and bread and butter, and in their place we will have a good soup, well-cooked meats if one cares for them, plenty of milk, eggs, butter and a fair amount of the sweet things of life. For the coming woman is to be an out-of-door creature, and can consume pure saccharine matter in reasonable quantities to excellent advantage. Perhaps she will make her own confectionery. If she does, so much the better; for she will be more certain that it is made of proper material.

Women have been starving themselves to death in a systematic, sympathetic and aristocratic fashion for a good many years, and it is quite time that they put a stop to it. The apostle of healthful development is telling them that it is out of the question to keep a good fire in the physical furnace without proper material. There are many people who are under the doctor's care, and who swallow no end of nauseous drugs and drink all sorts of vile-tasting and smelling waters, when the most that they need is plenty of good food to eat and all of the out-of-door exercise that they can bear. Such a course of treatment would bring them up to the standard in a short time, but it would diminish the doctor's fees, and that is precisely what he does not want.

It would be a good thing if some medical man could develop a speciality in the faculty of teaching people how to eat and what to eat, instead of filling them with drugs that nine times out of ten aggravate the disease they seem striving to remove. Then we might hope for strong, healthy, well-developed girls and women, who are fit for all the duties of life. It is no secret to many thoughtful persons that the diet of women, especially those of limited means, is nowhere near sufficient to keep them in good condition.

It might be a benefit if, instead of fresh-air funds and excursions and a few weeks in the country, there could be restaurants provided where women could for a moderate sum get meals that are sufficiently nourishing to keep up their vitality and give them some sort of show for rising above the level to which their burdens of overwork and under-feeding have dragged them.—N. Y. Ledger.

SOCIETY SPOILS THEM.

High-Bred Dogs by No Means the Most Intelligent.

So long as our dogs were employed in the labor of the organized recreations of man, the tendency of the association with the superior being was in a high measure educative. They were contently submitted to a more or less critical but always effective selection which tended ever to develop a higher grade of intelligence. With the advance in the organization of society the dog is even losing something of his utility, ever in the way of sport. He is fast becoming a mere idle favorite, prized for unimportant peculiarities of form. The effort in the main is not now to make creatures which can help in the employments of man, but to breed for show alone, demanding no more intelligence than necessary to make the creature a well-behaved denizen of a house. The result is the institution of a wonderful variety in the size, shape and special peculiarities of different breeds, with what appears to me to be a concomitant loss in their intelligence. It appears to me, in a word, that our treatment of this noble animal, where he is bred for ornament, is, in effect, degrading.—Prof. N. S. Shaler, in Scribner's.

Bees in the Mammoth Cave.

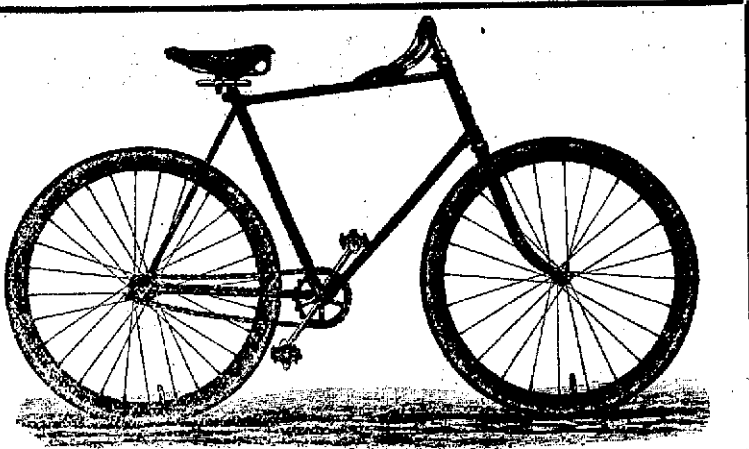

"Mammoth cave in Kentucky is getting to be a gigantic bee hive," said a recent visitor. "The last time I went through this big hole in the ground I took both the long and short routes, as they are called by the guides. At several places there were rather too many bees for me to feel entirely comfortable, although I was not attacked by any of them. If the cave should be explored for honey some rich finds would undoubtedly be made. The bees are increasing constantly. In fact, while I have visited the cave frequently for several years, it has only been about two years since I knew that they were there, and this year it would be impossible for a visitor not to know it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

—James Venney was run over by an ice wagon in New York and one of his broken ribs punctured his lung. The escaping air got into the cellular tissue under the skin and puffed him up like a balloon. He was taken to the hospital but he was known as a "human pin cushion." But he is recovering.

—There was a mock marriage at a church entertainment in Steubenville, O. The principals were a maiden lady of the advanced age of eighty and a man of sixty-five. Now the bride claims the man is her real husband, and he has become so scared that he appears as old as she.

—Mr. Lamont—"Why do you always question patients so closely about what they eat? Does the information you get help you to diagnose their cases?" Dr. Emmed—"Oh, no! But, by no! doing I am enabled to guess what their station in life is, and how much does I can probably get out of them."

Fred Smith's Latest Poetry.

Oh, what makes Mary look so sad,
Who was always so bright and gay?
Why, Springer has shorn her little lamb
And stole its fleeces away.

"Why did this Springer shear my lamb?"
"Poor sugar-taxed Mary cries,
'Does he want to use the lambskin's wool
'To blind the people's eyes?"

Now Mary dear need cry no more,
Springer will shear no lamb again.
We'll send him up Salt River,
Where he will for life remain.

Near that classic river's head
He can while the time away,
And chat with his next neighbor—
The great and good MacVeach.

Comedy To-Night.

"A Run on the Bank" is the title of Chas. E. Blaney's latest farce comedy success in which those clever comedians Ward & Vokes appear for the first time as stars this evening at the Grand. The piece is a novelty in farce comedy as it has a decided plot. The story is of "two gentlemen of unlimited nerve and experience" known as Lord Percy Soakup and Baron Harold DeCatur, whose exploits attending their endeavor to live without work, furnishes most of the comedy and interesting situations. As a business venture they secure an old bank room, while impersonating two English noblemen, and open a combination bank and saloon. Success at first favors their efforts, but unfortunately Wall street speculations threaten to put them back where they started from. They call in the aid of an old friend whose capabilities are centered in getting up fine imitations of Uncle Sam's legal tender. The bogus lords arrange for $75,000 worth of "green goods" and when the expected "run on the bank" occurs they have "money to burn" and everybody is paid in full. Of course the fraud is discovered, but the birds have flown and turn up in the last act in a parlor of the Palace hotel, San Francisco, where they have acquired another social and financial standing and are entertaining Eastern friends. Several very clever specialties are here introduced and the people go away pleased that they had really witnessed a truly novel and new performance in farce comedy.

Gave $300 Bail.

Monday Deputy Everhart, an officer of the United States district court at Springfield, was at Argenta and read the warrant to Miss Nora Welton, charging her with tampering with the United States mail. The young woman was not placed under restraint and accompanied by her uncle, Supervisor H. C. Griffin, came to Decatur to take the afternoon train for Springfield. She was accompanied by Attorney C. A. Ewing. The party went before a United States commissioner where Miss Welton waived examination and was held in the sum of $300 to await the action of the federal grand jury in January. Supervisor Griffin at once became her bondsman and the party returned to Decatur on their way home to Argenta. The fine on conviction will not be less than $100.

Improvement on the Tabernacle.

At its regular monthly meeting last night the official board of the First Christian church decided to expend about $1,000 in all on the tabernacle at once. Four large furnaces will be put in, an elevated baptistry, together with eight robing rooms for the use of candidates; a brick wall under the outer sleepers; and a large room will be finished up under the choir platform. This room will be used by the ladies as a kitchen and work hall. These improvements will add greatly to the convenience and appearance of the big building.

Bought a Big Farm.

Through the agency of Aaron Smick, John Hatfield and son on Saturday last became the owners of a fine grain and stock farm, consisting of 440 acres, near St. Mary, Iroquois county. The soil is rich, black loam, and is equal to the soil of any farm in Macon county. The purchasers have commenced to improve the place, and will have an ideal farm in the near future. It was bought of John Wain, a real estate dealer of Chicago.

It is more than probable that Decatur will get the German Baptist or Dunkard camp meeting to be held in May and June of the coming year. The locating committee thinks Decatur is a good point, and have submitted a proposition which was accepted to a meeting of citizens held last night at the St. Nicholas hotel, at which Dr. R. L. Walston presided. The proposition which was in type-written form, was considered section by section, and it was figured that it will take an outlay of about $3,000 to meet the requirements. It is to be a national meeting and the railroad throughout the United States for ten days preceding the date of the opening of the meeting will sell tickets to Decatur to all who apply at one fare for the round trip. There will be 10,000 to 25,000 Dunkards here for 7 to 10 days at the camp business meeting and thousands of strangers will come in on excursion and regular trains to attend the meeting and see the city. The half fare tickets will be good for thirty days. The Dunkards will not sleep at Oakland Park where the meetings will be held. They will ask for sleeping accommodations in the city and will take their meals at the park. Several large temporary buildings will have to be erected at the park, to gether with offices and other structures and it is required that there shall be a field and racks where horses can be hitched.

It is expected that the big meeting will leave at least $100,000 in the city, and may result in the sale of land and residence property.
